

REMEMBERING JOE

The article on Joe George brought back many memories. Our paths crossed on many occasions, first when he was an 11-year-old flute soloist (1939?) until the 1990's, when the Woosters and the Georges wintered only a few miles apart, resulting in some pleasant evenings.

Joe's first "union job" as a musician was at the casino in Springbank Amusement Park where we worked together during the summer of 1946. I have enclosed a copy of our band photograph.

Ken Wooster ('38)

Photo: Russ Mills Band

Back Row (L to R): Ken Wooster ('38), trombone; Eric Cosgrove, trumpet; George Tingey, trumpet; Aaron Rahn, trumpet; Dick Stookes, drums & Doug Hook, bass

Front Row (L to R) John Zadorsky, tenor sax; Joe George, also sax; Frank Serratore, alto sax; Russ Mills, leader a & tenor sax; & Archie Poulton ('39), piano

